

2019 COMMUNITY SURVEY

Our future needs a voice.

Watch for a survey link this spring!

The City of Manhattan will be conducting its 2019 Biennial Community Survey this March, asking residents about their satisfaction with city services, support for future growth initiatives and overall quality of life issues.

In past years, we mailed paper surveys to a random sample of households, however, this year will be completely online! The City will utilize the email addresses of utility billing customers, and also mail the online survey link to a random sample of customers. Be on the lookout for a survey this March in order to give us your feedback and opinion!
